Rivington Chapel - The Background

---

Many people passing through Rivington village on their way to the Barns or to Anglezarke and Belmont (near Chorley, Lancashire) notice a Nonconformist chapel by the village green but few know of its history. In order to understand why it is there in a comparatively remote place one needs to know a little of the history of worship in Rivington since the Reformation.

The ecclesiastical upheaval caused by the Reformation lasted for almost two hundred years spanning most of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, by which time an Anglican chapel of ease had already been built at Rivington for the mother parish of Bolton-le-Moors. The conflict was between not only Catholic and Protestant beliefs, but also between Protestants themselves, some wishing to retain something of the old order, others leaning towards greater reforms. The gulf between Anglican and Puritan in England fluctuated with successive monarchs, the breach widening under James I and culminating in Civil War in the reign of Charles I. During the Commonwealth in the 1650's, the Puritans remained in the ascendancy, but the pendulum swung in the opposite direction with the restoration of Charles II in 1660.

Following the Act of Uniformity in 1662, all clergymen who refused to accept the prayer book as the only form of worship were ejected from their livings within the Church of England, and Puritan became Nonconformist. The Conventicle Act which followed in 1664 punished 'with fine, imprisonment and transportation on a third offence, all persons who met in greater numbers than four over and above members of the same household for any religious worship save that of Common Prayer'. Those who escaped or returned faced death.

The Five Mile Act in the following year forced those who had been ejected to swear that they would never attempt 'any alteration in government either in Church or State'. Any refusing to take such an oath was forbidden to go within five miles of any borough or place where he had ministered 'unless only in passing upon the road'. The punishment was a fine or imprisonment.

Under the Conventicle Act of 1670, a magistrate could convict anyone disobeying these laws, on the oath of any informer, and dispense with a trial by jury. Nonconformists were thus forced to worship in secret, using barns, woods, hollows on the moors or any other convenient hiding place away from the prying eyes of informers, and being able to confide in only their most trusted friends. However, relief came in 1672 when Charles II suspended the penal laws against the Nonconformists, and it became possible to form congregations and register places of worship. Even so, it was only the Act of Toleration in 1689 which brought almost complete freedom of worship to all Protestants.

These national changes were reflected in thousands of English parishes, including that of Bolton, Lancashire, in which Rivington stood. Nonconformity was strong in the locality so that when, in 1662, the Rev. Samuel Newton was ejected from Rivington parish church for refusing to comply with the Act of Uniformity, most of his congregation probably left with him. He remained in the neighbourhood, and is understood to have worshipped at a place called Noon Hill on the slopes of Winter Hill. Such a place was certainly well-suited to the purpose, as anyone approaching from a distance could be seen from Rivington Pike or Winter Hill.

Samuel Newton returned to Rivington when he received a 'general licence as a Presbyterian teacher' on 10 June 1672, and on 16 July he was granted a licence for a meeting place at Rivington. It is likely that the Nonconformists met at what later became Moses Cocker Farm on Sheephouse Lane in Rivington. Samuel Newton died in 1682 and was succeeded by the Rev. John Walker, who died in 1702. His will was published by Irvine in 1904.

After the Toleration Act of 1689, Protestant Nonconformists enjoyed considerably more freedom, and began to look for more permanent and appropriate places of worship. In Rivington, money for the investment required was sought, and in 1693 the sum of £100 was contributed by Mr Thomas Anderton of School Brow. A deed dated 16 January 1693 was granted to five men (John Bradley of Rivington, schoolmaster, George Brownlow of Rivington, yeoman, Thomas Waddington of Heath Charnock, yeoman, Jonathan Kershaw of Anglezarke, yeoman, and Roger Bromiley of Sharples, yeoman) who were to pay a rent of £5-10-0 per annum to Thomas Anderton until his death, and then to use the money for promoting the Protestant religion according to the Presbyterian belief, including the spiritual welfare of the inhabitants of Rivington, Anglezarke and Anderton. New trustees were to be elected as and when required.

In 1703 a chapel was built overlooking the village green on land sold to the Trustees for £2-10-0 by John Andrews Esq. In 1704, the first trust was drawn up, and the chapel was vested in the hands of the Trustees. The agreement was made between John Andrews of Little Lever, the Rt. Hon. Hugh, Lord Willoughby, Baron of Parham, John Bradley of Rivington, schoolmaster, Thomas Waddington of Heath Charnock, gentleman, Alexander Waddington, his son and heir, John Brownlow the eldest of Rivington, yeoman, Richard Brownlow his son and heir, James Worseley of Rivington, yeoman, John Morres of Brookhouse in Anglezarke, Thomas Bromiley of Sharples, chapman, and Robert Anderton, son and heir of Thomas Anderton. It stipulates the use of the chapel to be for free religious worship by Protestants dissenting from the Church of England. The witnesses were Ra. Ainsworth, minister of the chapel, Jas. Brownlow and Peter Anderton. For many years the chapel remained Presbyterian, later becoming Unitarian in faith and form of worship yet retaining harmony with the Anglican parish church across the green.

By 1737, other gifts had been added - Lord Willoughby £100; George Brownlow, late of Rivington, £50; Thomas Anderton, late of Rivington £20; James Worsley, late of Rivington, £10; Thomas Johnson, late of Heath Charnock, yeoman, £10; John Greenhalgh, late of Anderton, £5; and John Bradley £30.

Additional to those which follow, lists of Trustees for the chapel for 1718, 1737, 1746, 1779, 1797, 1831, 1858 and 1893 (names only) were published in the Bi-Centenary volume in 1903.

The Chapel

The chapel is a plain, simple, rectangular building of local gritstone, with a bell-cote at the north end. It is a Grade II* listed building and retains its original oak boxpews, the pulpit being situated about half way along the north-east wall. The pews are not individually owned or rented, though a brass plate on one door is inscribed 'Robert Andrews, John William Crompton, Andrew Crompton'. The organ was a gift to Rivington Chapel when it was removed from Halliwell Road Unitarian Chapel in 1843. A tablet on the wall near the north door (illustration opposite) has the following inscription:

In 1844, this stone was discovered by workmen when they were demolishing the breast wall of the village green in Rivington; a member of the congregation had the broken pieces framed and mounted on the chapel wall.

Opposite the pulpit is the pew of the Willoughby family, on which a copper plate has the following inscription:

The Right Honourable
HUGH LORD WILLOUGHBY
F.R.S.
OF PARHAM                      OBIT 1765

On the same wall as the pulpit there is a large memorial rising from floor to ceiling in memory of ‘Thomas, 11th Lord Willoughby of Parham in Suffolk; of Horwich, Adlington and Shaw Place in this County who died February 28th 1691 aged 89 years.’

It continues with a long genealogy at the foot of which is a poem reflecting on immortality. It was published in the Bi-Centenary volume in 1903.

The memorial was restored with a grant from English Heritage in 1992, and remounted on the wall of the chapel. In addition to the restoration of the lettering of the genealogy, the coats of arms underwent the removal of the old varnish and revealed their original brilliant colours.

Among the plaques inside the Chapel, near the Willoughby memorial is:

In memory of Mary Alice Brindle
died 26th December 1967
aged 75 years,
and John Brindle, died 13th Aug. 1968
aged 82 years.

Underneath the bell rope at the north end is:

To the memory of James and Martha Smithells and their daughter Harriet.
Also to the memory of other members of the Smithells family who were for long worshippers in this chapel.
1934

Another plaque is over a pew near the door leading to the vestry:

In memory of
Thomas Lowe of Rivington who died April 21st 1836
aged 74 years,
and of Alice his wife who died January 15th 1808
aged 43 years.
Their children died,
Thomas, Sept 4th 1806 aged 2 years
Ann, May 15th 1858 aged 67 years
Bennet, Feb 17th 1873 aged 86 years
Mary, Feb 24th 1879 aged 82 years
Rachel, Aug 5th 1884 aged 90 years
Alice, Oct 31st 1886 aged 85 years.

Over the door at the north end:

In memory of my beloved husband
and our devoted father and brother
ANDREWS CROMPTON
of Rivington
who died 4th February 1933 aged 64 years
also of his father
JOHN WILLIAM CROMPTON
of Rivington Esquire
who died 23rd March 1905 aged 70 years
and his mother
MARGARET EVELYN
who died 11th February 1910 aged 65 years and of his wife TERESA RICHARDSON who died 15th September 1958 aged 81 years.

On a wall over the choir door is:

In memory of their beloved uncle
ROBERT ANDREWS
of Rivington Esquire
who died July 4th 1858 aged 73 years and of
JOHN ANDREWS
his brother who died December 22nd 1865 in the 80th year of his age.
This monument is erected by their surviving nieces.

The Chapel Yard

---

In the Chapel yard, sheltered by the only hornbeam trees in Rivington, there are four stone door lintels, some apparently from farmhouses submerged when the reservoirs and Lever Park were constructed, inscribed

16:95

I
16 I R 98

17 WMI 13

1732

These appear to refer to Thomas, Alice and Richard Anderton of School Brow; James and Rebecca Isherwood of Ainsworth's (later Wood's) Farm; William Breres of Rivington Hall; and (finally) John and Abigail Andrews of Rivington Hall.

Perhaps the most interesting of the gravestones, however, is that of Samuel Oldknow:

Here lieth the Body of Samuel Oldknow of Nottingham late of Anderton who departed this life Aug 7th 1759 Aged 25 yrs
Likewise Eliz. his daughter who died
March 12th 1762 Aged 4 years.

He lived at Roscoe Low Farm, Anderton and was reputedly the first man in England to manufacture muslin, a fine cotton having previously been woven in the East. He came to the district in 1754, and married and prospered, leaving a son Samuel who worked with Richard Arkwright near Stockport. According to John Rawlinson, however, muslin was first produced by the widow of Samuel the elder, and a partner in the business, in 1764.

Other graves include those of several ministers of the chapel, and of several members of the Norris family whose coat of arms is displayed on a wall inside the chapel.

Herein are Deposited the remains of Henry Norris
of Penwortham in this County, Gentleman, who departed this Life 5th July 1754 Aged 39 Yrs.
ALSO Catharine the Daughter of Henry and Catharine Norris who departed this Life March 26th 1762 aged 21 Years.

Also Catharine the wife of Henry Norris who died 16th
June 1801 Aged 89 Years
Also Henry Norris of Davy-
Hulme Hall and Penwortham Esqr Son of Henry and Catharine Norris. Upwards of Thirty Years an active, upright and in-dependant MAGISTRATE for this County who died 17th March 1819 Aged 74 Years.

Shaw's Charity

Also buried here are members of the Shaw family, owners of farms and cottages in the locality and the village school. Funds provide grants for children of Rivington, Heath Charnock and Anderton entering further and higher education. They are distributed by a committee of parish councillors from the three townships. Twice a year, the charity provides monies for old people who have resided in the district for at least 30 years. This gift used to be in kind, probably coal and groceries.

The day school in Rivington still belongs to Shaw's Charity, and the Local Education Authority pays rent for its use. The original grammar school was built on the site of the present school, and used to take boarders who lodged either on local farms or in Fisher House, which is next door to the row of cottages on the south side of the chapel.

Richard Shaw of Gilsbrook, himself a benefactor to the locality and probably a member of the same family, was a trustee of the charity; his gravestone reads:

In loving memory of Jane, wife of Richard Shaw (of) Gilsbrook who died 6th May 1893 aged 82 years;
the above Richard Shaw born 28th December 1823, died 11 September 1897

The Pilgrimage

---

In 1961 Capt. John W. R. Crompton of Rivington Hall, Chairman of Trustees, and Reverend Eric Shirvell Price, minister of Bank Street Unitarian Chapel, Bolton suggested a Pilgrimage as the means by which Unitarians nationally could celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of the ejection of 1662. About 360 people made the first Pilgrimage in the following year, a dinner in the Tithe Barn being followed by the walk to the chapel for a service, with many having to sit outside. By popular vote, it was proposed that this should become an annual event, but by the 1980's it was decided to hold it once every three years, on a Saturday in September. 15th September 2012 is the next celebration of this unique event.

The Garden of Remembrance, 1970

---

This walled garden is behind the schoolroom. As the space in the chapel yard gradually filled, leaving no room for new graves, it was decided to start an interdenominational Garden of Remembrance where relatives could use niches in the wall, or have names and dates inscribed. The Garden was dedicated on 19th September by Mrs Amy Howarth who was at that time President of the General Assembly of Unitarian and Free Christian Churches.

The Manse

---

The manse, or minister's house, is situated on Sheephouse Lane close to the chapel. It was built in 1787 and is now a private residence. The money from the sale of the house was used in the creation of the Garden of Remembrance. The Rev. Samuel Thompson was the last resident minister. His memorial plaque, at the south end of the chapel over the choir pew, reads:

In affectionate Memory of REV'D SAMUEL THOMPSON
the faithful minister of this chapel from January 1st 1881
to July 1st 1909
"He being dead yet speaketh"

The Vestry

The chapel vestry has two stories. A staircase leads from the outer door (inside) to the upstairs room which was used for meetings. The vestry was also used by the founders of the Rivington and Adlington Brass Band whose leader, Mr Owen, was headmaster of the village school.

In the summer of 1987 two oil paintings were stolen from the vestry walls during a break-in. They were portraits of the Rev. Nathaniel Hibbert (who plays a prominent part in the registers which follow), and the Rev. Samuel Thompson. Although of little commercial value, they had been of great historical interest to the chapel.

The Schoolroom and Library

---

This late Victorian building was erected by public subscription, and was also used at first as a Sunday School by the parish church. A good library started by the Rev. James Taylor in 1825 (which all could use for 1d per week) was housed in the schoolroom. Over the years, however, the condition of the books deteriorated to such an extent that in 1985, the County Librarian, Diane Winterbottom, was invited to inspect the library and advise on its future. It was dismantled by her staff, and although some volumes were beyond repair, many were of value, and were distributed among other libraries, thus saving at least part of this interesting collection.

A notice board by the Chapel yard bears the inscription;

FOUNDED 1662 RIVINGTON CHAPEL BUILT 1703

“Here Let No Man a Stranger Be”

Introduction

The registers of baptism and burial which follow are for the period up to 1837, when civil registration commenced; entries in the register itself continue to the present day. They have much in common with other English Presbyterian registers, though there are features which make these notable, particularly their rejection, as being not authentic, in 1838 and the inclusion of details of grandparents of some children at the time of baptism.

In 1837, Commissioners enquiring into the 'State Custody and Authenticity' of non-parochial registers invited non-Anglican denominations to deposit their registers with the Registrar-General for authentication and preservation. The Presbyterians at Rivington agreed to do so, but made a copy before transmission to London, continuing to use this copy as their normal, and only, register. The text commences with a note concerning this deposit.

130 Lancashire

A Register of Births, Baptisms, and Burials, belonging to the Dissenting Chapel in Rivington in the Parish of Bolton, and County of Lancaster commencing on the 1st day of October One thousand seven (eight in the copy) hundred and eighty five, when the proviso of an act, made in the twenty third year of his present Majesty's Reign, for granting to his Majesty a Stamp duty on the Registry of Births, Baptisms and Burials, was extended to the Protestant Dissenters from the Church of England; by virtue of which their Register will be admitted as legal evidence in our Courts of Law.

At this point, the remainder of the page has been excised, and the 'Certificate or Statement , to accompany Register Books, as recommended in the Circular', a printed pro-forma, has been substituted and attached to the top portion. Entries underlined below are the words handwritten onto the pro-forma.

130 Lancashire

To the Commissioners for inquiring into the State, Custody, and Authenticity of Non-parochial Registers. The annexed or accompanying Book is (or are) the original Register of Book of Births, Baptisms and Burials which has been kept for the Chapel or Meeting-house called the Presbyterian Chapel being of the Presbyterian denomination, situate in the Chapelry of Rivington in the County of Lancaster founded about the year 1703:-

The Congregation has never been dissolved. The Book has been from time to time in the custody of the Minister for the time being, of the Congregation; and is (or are) sent to the Commissioners from the immediate custody of Wm. Rowlinson, Minister of the Presbyterian Chapel in the Chapelry of Rivington who has kept it (or them) since the twenty second of October 1837.

Signed the Second of January 1838

William Rowlinson Minister

or Thomas Anderton Trustee or Officer or Richard Anderton Executor or other Representative

as former Minister (or Trustee or Officer)

The Commissioners, however, were not disposed to accept the authenticity of the register, and their reply is bound into the volume.

22 Downing Street

21 Feby 1838

Sir,

I am directed by the Commissioners to inform you that they have been under the necessity of rejecting the Register sent by you on Account of a great portion of it having been compiled since 1815 although containing Baptisms as early as 1770.

I am Sir,

Your mo: obedt Servt

Jho.S Burn

Secretary

Revd W. Rowlinson

The reason for this rejection can easily be seen in the pages which follow.

Whereas, from 1820, the entries of baptism are, with few exceptions, presented in chronological order, those dated earlier appear to have no rational sequence, and therefore cannot have been compiled in the normal way - i.e., data being entered at the time of the ceremony concerned. Moreover, entries for the first forty years and more appear to be in the same handwriting, with the exception of some interpolated entries. Rivington was not alone in receiving a rebuff from the Commissioners; some congregations, which had apparently not been in the practice of keeping a written record, compiled entries in 1837/8 specifically for the purpose. On the subject of the history of non parochial registers generally, see Steel, D.J., Sources for Non-conformist genealogy and family history Society of Genealogists, 1973.

A further development occurred in 1858, when the Registration Act of that year (21 & 22 Vict. c.25) facilitated the further deposit of such non-parochial registers. Thomas Dorning Hibbert, grandson of a minister at Rivington who had died in 1819, presented a third copy of the register which had been in his family's possession for some forty years, and into which he had written a number of family memoranda. The register was accompanied by the completed pro-forma, and commenced with an introduction almost identical to that in the copy.

a Register of Births, Baptisms and Burials belonging to the Dissenting Chapel in Rivington in the Parish of Bolton and County of Lancaster commencing on the first day of October One Thousand seven hundred and Eighty-five, when the provisions of an Act, made in the twenty-third Year of his present Majesty's Reign, for granting to his Majesty a Stamp duty on the Registry of Births, Baptisms & Burials, was extended to the Protestant Dissenters from the Church of England; by virtue of which their Register will be admitted as legal evidence in our Courts of Law.

Certificate or Statement to accompany Register Books.

To the commissioners for enquiry into the State, Custody and Authenticity of NON-PAROCHIAL REGISTERS, (1857)

The annexed or accompanying Book is the Register Book of the Births & Baptisms (& Burials crossed out) which has been kept by the Rev'd Nath'l Hibbert for the Chapel or Meeting house called the English Presbyterian Chapel being of the English Presbyterian persuasion in Rivington in the Parish of Bolton in the County of Lancaster. This Congregation was founded soon after the year 1662 by the Rev'd Samuel Newton who was in that year ejected from Rivington Chapel. They had no fixed place of meeting until 17 * (* I will send the date of which I cannot be certain another day) when the present chapel was built in which the Congregation now (1858) meet.

The book sent was in the custody of Miss Susanna Andrews Hibbert who resides with her brother Thomas Hibbert Esq're of Liverpool & Everton Co Lanc after the death of her father: and it is sent to the Commissioners from the immediate custody of Thomas Dorning Hibbert Esq. of Everton & the Middle Temple Barrister at Law in the capacity of grandson of the Rev'd Nath'l Hibbert formerly Minister of the Chapel who has possessed it for several years having received it from his Aunt the above Susanna Andrews Hibbert.

Signed the first day of June 1858

I believe this is the first regular register, I have heard of the fragment of our earlier one which I will inquire about. TDH

T. D. Hibbert sent a covering letter with this 'new' document.

Rec'd Ach'd 31 May 1858

The Commissioners accepted this baptismal register as authentic, though not the brief list of burials which was also included, or Hibbert's own memoranda with family details.

9th July 1858

No of Register: Lancashire 189a

Name: English Presbyterian Chapel, Rivington in the Parish of Bolton.

We certify that the entries in this Register which we find to be accurate and faithful commence with the Baptism of Enos Leatham on the page numbered 4 and end with the Baptism of John Darbishire on the page numbered 34-5.

Sam. Gale John S Burn W P Parkin

Births and Baptism (sic) 1786 - 1819 Pages numbered 4-35

Collated into the text which follows therefore are three copies of the Rivington registers, referred to hereafter as;

1. 'Original' (so called in 1837) on which the text is based;
2. 'Copy', bound with 'Original' in 1975, and still in the custody of the Trustees at the time of writing. Differences between this and 'Original' are marked * in this transcript;
3. '1858', apparently in the Rev. Nathaniel Hibbert's own handwriting, and deposited in that year by his grandson. All entries are dated before 1820. Differences between this and 'Original' are marked ** in this transcript. It has been consulted on microfilm.

The relationship between 'Original' and '1858' is not easy to discover. Neither includes an exact copy of the other, and each contains a short list of pre-1820 burials which do not overlap at all. There is no evidence that the 'fragment' of an earlier register, referred to above in T. D. Hibbert's letter, was ever found.

It would seem that the Commissioners were correct in preferring the '1858' register to that submitted twenty years earlier. It is written largely, though not entirely, in chronological order of baptism; it ends with the Rev N. Hibbert's death; it contains four entries which are not in 'Original' or 'Copy'; it includes many Christian names of maternal grandfathers which could not have been copied from 'Original'; it has data omissions which have been completed in 'Original' but which are unlikely to have been made through poor copying; and it does not have any of the interpolations found in 'Original', which is written in a book bought with money left to the Chapel by John Shaw Jnr. in 1816.

The likeliest explanation of the history of these three documents is that '1858' is the earliest, though not necessarily the truly original and certainly not the first kept by the Chapel. When the Rev. N. Hibbert died in 1819, it was retained by his family, and another register ('the 'Original') written out at the time. 'Original' seems to be based on '1858' (or on papers from which '1858' had itself been compiled), but was immediately supplemented by the completion of omissions and gaps achieved as a result of diligent enquiries by the new Minister and schoolmaster among the congregation. Some entries are repeated. The haphazard result clearly did not impress the Commissioners in 1838, and they returned it to Rivington where it remains. 'Original', for all its defects, is the most complete record of baptisms and burials at the Chapel, and is presented here as faithfully as possible to its text. The Trustees have agreed to deposit the manuscript in Bolton Library.
